Hancock will send no more telegrams. Per order of the Democratic National committee.

The Democrats cannot boast of its record any more than a mule can boast of its ancestry.

The Reverend Doctor Greenback Congressman Gilbert de La Matyr, thinks very many who voted in Maine for Plaisted, will vote for Garfield in November.

The accession of Germans in Indiana to the Republican ranks is very large. This is one of the grounds on which the Republicans base their hope of carrying the State.

Appreciating the worth of Senator Conkling's New York speech, the National Republican committee has ordered 250,000 copies printed for distribution as a campaign document.

An outrageous persecution took place in Virginia, last Saturday, the subject being a negro, and he received thirty-nine lashes and was thrown into jail for informing against a liquor seller who was violating the law.

The Democrats begin to whine whenever the Republicans undertake to disclose the record of the Democratic party, If there is anything that cuts the Democrats to the quick, it is the showing up of their record. And it cuts them as keenly to have the record of the Republican party laid open to public gaze.

Governor Cornell, of New York, is taking steps to bring lottery dealers to grief. Nineteen who have already been indicted, will be tried this month. The police board of New York city, has also decided to take a hand in the suppression of lotteries. It is proposed to root them out, and make the businsss as dangerous as it is odious.

The news from Maine still continues to throw an uncertainty about the gubernatorial question in that State. There were 147,000 votes cast at the recent election, and this great number has been so equally divided between Davis and Plaisted, that it will require an official count to decide the question of election. It is claimed that there have been some errors made in telegraphing the result, which when corrected by the canvassing board, will show that Plaisted will have a hundred or more votes than Davis.

When Colonel Vilas made his Chicago speech, he said there was no issue between the Republican and the Democratic parties on the financial question, that both of them were antagonistic to the Greenback party. This does not tally with Hancock's "glorious" dispatch to the Greenbacker Plaisted, when the General claimed that the Greenback victory in Maine was a "glorious result." But Colonel Vilas blunders as badly as does Hancock, and lays himself fully as open to ridicule. Notwithstanding Hancock's hasty and silly dispatch, Colonel Vilas told his Chicago hearers that General Hancock would make as great a President as did Madison or Jefferson! Verily, Democratic candidates and Democratic speakers are having a hard time of it this campaign. They send telegrams, write letters, and make speeches only to fall into blundering.

Colonel William F. Vilas, of Madison, made a speech in Chicago, last Saturday night. It was before a Democratic club. He went there to inspire the Democrats with hope. He said a great many things that do no credit to William F. Vilas. He is a young man of brilliant parts, and has generally been considered too high a character for the party he trained with. But when surrounded by Democrats, and inspired by Democratic applause, he seems to forget himself, bends his neck to the behests of his party, and says many things that no strong-minded and candid man would not. He said among other things that he did not believe the Northern Democrats would be controlled by the South, and he made this statement in the face of the significant fact that already the Democratic party in Congress is governed entirely by the Southern wing of that party; and the Northern Democrats can not take a step nor adopt a measure without the consent of the Confederates. The South has control of all committees in Congress, and Colonel Vilas knows this fact. But there is another thing which Colonel Vilas said which does him no honor, and which lowers him in the estimation of all who gave him credit for fairness on the stump. He had the remarkable brass the astonishing cheek, to make the statement that the victorious Northern army was almost entirely made up of Democrats. Ben. Butler started this story and Colonel Vilas assuming the role of a demagogue, repeated it and endorsed it. Now, to settle the matter, we will publish the official record of the votes of the troops for President in 1864, when McClellan was the popular Democratic candidate. Here is the result:

States.	Lincoln.	McClellan.	Total.
Maine	4,174	74	4,248
New Hampshire	2,636	60	2,756
Vermont	543	49	592
Pennsylvania	26,742	12,439	39,181
Maryland	2,5	321	3,121
Kentucky	1,194	2,823	4,017
Ohio	41,119	9,757	50,876
Michigan	9,192	2,959	12,151
Iowa	15,178	1,564	16,742
Wisconsin	11,372	2,458	13,830
California	2(	337	2,337
Total	116,887	33,748	17,0335

This should put to shame Colonel Vilas or any man who would knowingly make a misstatement for the purpose of misleading his hearers. He should be in better business than try to ape Ben Butler.

SENATOR CONKLING.

The Appointments of the New York Senator in the West.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The dates for Senator Conkling's speeches in the West have been partly fixed. He will speak at Warren, O., Sept. 28, when General Grant will preside. He will then speak at Cleveland, O., Sept. 29; Cincinnati, Oct. 1; Richmond, Ind., Oct. 4; Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 6; Indianapolis, Oct. 7; Terre Haute, Oct. 8 or 9, and other places yet to be named. He will stop at Richmond on his return to New York. The meeting at Warren promises to be one of the largest ever held in Ohio. General Grant and Senator Conkling have been invited to visit General Garfield at Mentor, but it is not known whether they will be able to accept the invitation. General Arthur, for some time, expected to be present at the meeting at Warren, but his duties here will prevent him from going West. General Grant will reach this city about October 1, when he will be accorded a grand reception by the Boys in Blue.

MATTERS IN MAINE.

The Meeting of the Greenback State Convention at Portland.

PORTLAND, Sept. 21.—The Greenback convention to nominate electors met this afternoon, with 465 delegates present. Charles A. White presided. He denounced General Fifield, and said an understanding was entered into to divide the electoral ticket, and urged the carrying of it out.

S. D. Hobson presented resolutions endorsing the action of the State Committee, recommending fusion with the Democrats.

J. B. Chase amid great excitement, protested.

Elliott King moved to accept the report and the resolutions, and to name a joint electoral ticket.

Chase made a motion to amend by nominating seven straight Greenbackers. This was received with applause and hisses. The speaker made an appeal for a fair hearing and argued against fusion. He said there were thousands of Greenbackers in the State who voted for the rest of the ticket with Plaisted who will not vote for Fusion electors. He protested against giving away the future Greenback party for four Weaver electors. It was the Greenback candidate and platform that carried the State.

The Rev. Alvah Strout, F. M. Plaisted, and other advocated fusion, and after which the previous question was carried and a resolution to fuse was adopted although there was considerable opposition.

The following is the resolution in full:

Resolved, The election of General Harris M. Plaisted to the office of Governor, by a vote unprecedented in the history of the State, and the reelection of our representation in Congress is unquestionably an indorsement of our principles by the State of Maine. We feel assured that when party prejudice shall no longer control our Republican brethren, that we shall show an overwhelming majority in favor of national principles which will be responded to by every State in the Union. That the action of the State Committee recommending an arrangement with the Democratic party for State and Presidential elections was expedient, and the national Greenback party of the State of Maine, in convention assembled, hereby indorses that action, and agree to support at the Presidential election, Solon Chase and Samuel Watts for candidates for electors at large, and John J. Turner, Benjamin Banker, Charles R. Whidden, Wm. A. Cromwell, John P. Donworth, as candidates for district electors, as recommended by the committee.

Congressman Murch made a brief speech. He said he believed every Greenbacker knew his opposition to fusion in the past. He believed the Democratic party governed by high, patriotic motives. He returned thanks to the Democrats for supporting him. The question is: "Shall seven Garfield or three Hancock and four Weaver electors be chosen?" He was free to say he preferred the latter.

Speeches were also made by Solon Chase, Congressman Ladd and others, after which the convention adjourned.

At the adjournment of the Congress Hall convention this afternoon the straight Greenbackers met at the City Hall, Solon Chase presiding. A straight ticket was nominated as follows: Solon Chase, J. F. Turner, C. R. Whidden, J. F. Hilton, Thomas G. Burden, G. W. Wooster, E. B. Fry.

Seventy-three delegates voted. The whole anti-Fusin strength was claimed as 140 in the Congress Hall convention. The straight Greenbackers adopted the following:

Resolved, For the enlightenment and encouragement of our Greenback brethren in other States, we, the straight Greenbackers of Maine, in convention assembled, declare that there is a Greenback party in Maine, pledged to the interests of the whole people; that the late fusion and confusion in this State was due wholly to the exigencies of State issues, and that in national matters we vote with our brethren elsewhere in the Union for Weaver and Chambers.

GRANT-CHAPMAN.

Marriage of Jessie Grant and Miss Chapman, in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—Jesse Grant, third son of General U. S. Grant, and Miss Lizzie Chapman, daughter of W. S. Chapman, of San Francisco, were married to-day at the Palace Hotel, in this city. There was no great display, although the apartment in which the nuptial knot was tied was handsomely decorated with flowers.

The company present was select. Among the most noted were Ulysses S. Grant, Jr., ex-Senator and Mrs. Cole, Senator and Miss Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Dent, and H. H. Honore. General and Mrs. Grant sent a congratulatory dispatch.

The ceremony took place at 9 p. m. The bride entered on the arm of her brother-in-law, and was followed by Mr. Grant and Mrs. Chapman. There were no bridesmaids. The Rev. Dr. Stebbins performed the ceremony under the floral wedding bell.

The supper room was thrown open at 10 o'clock.

The presents received by the bride were numerous, and some of them very costly, but they were not displayed.

The young couple will leave for the East to-morrow, accompanied by Ulysses S. Grant, Jr.; H. H. Honore and Lieut. Harry Otis. They will be met at Omaha by Fred D. Grant, with a special car to take them to Galena to visit General and Mrs. Grant, who will then accompany them to Chicago, and after a few days they will all go to New York for a short time, and then to Philadelphia, where they will be entertained by George W. Childs. They will subsequently go to Boston, where a banquet is to be given to Gen. Grant.

Miss Chapman is the daughter of W. S. Chapman, the wealthy capitalist, whose bold and gigantic operations in real estate have been the subject of many newspaper articles. The lady is a petite demi-blonde, with a wealth of the lightest light-brown hair, and soft, light-brown eyes.

MAINE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21—Private telegrams received from Augusta by a prominent Government official here state that there is no good reason as yet for Republicans to concede a Fusion success as in many instances the result of the election, as compared with that of 1876, especially at such remote points as have already been heard from, do not indicate that the Fusionists have maintained their majorities, but on the contrary there have been perceptible Republican gains.

DANE COUNTY.

The Nominations of the Dane County Democrats.

MADISON, Sept. 21.—The following candidates were nominated by the Democrats for county officers to-day: Sheriff, W. C. Kizer; Treasurer, Bernard Esser; County Clerk, Thomas B. Coyn; Clerk of the Court, George C. Russell; Register of Deeds, O. S. Holum; District Attorney, R. M. Bashford; Coroner, James Arian; Surveyor, John Douglas. The ticket is a strong one, but the Democracy have no hopes of electing it.

The Democrats meet in convention at Watertown to-morrow to nominate a candidate for Congress to run against the Hon. L. B. Caswell. Dr. W. A. Reed, of Jefferson, and the Hon. J. C. Gregory, of this city, are prominently mentioned as such candidates. Either can have the honor that strives for it, but as the honor will be an empty one, it will fall to the one that sacrifices the most.

BACK IN THE FOLD.

DUBUQUE, Sept. 21.—The Times to-morrow morning will publish a letter from D. G. Goodrich, for years editor of The Clermont People's Paper, the leading Greenback journal of northern Iowa, renouncing the Greenback party and declaring his return to the Republican party.

CHINESE FOR AMERICA.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—United States Minister at Pekin informs the department of State that the United States consul at Hong Kong reports that during the quarter ending June, 30, 1880, 5002 emigrants left Hong Kong for the United States, of which seven were females and 44 boys.

An Eventful Day.

The 3d of September, like the 18th of June and the 4th of July, seems to be one of those days which history has set apart for great occasions. On it occurred the two bloodiest of the countless massacres which have stained the annals of France. On it Napoleon received one of his severest defeats in 1813. On it the Czar Nicholas took a step which made the Crimean war a certainty, and the great convulsion that overthrew the Second Empire broke out in Paris. But its most romantic associations are those connected with Oliver Cromwell. It was the day of his birth and of several of his earlier successes. It was the day of his great victory over the Scots at Dunbar, and his crowning triumph over Charles II, at Worcester; and as if to point more fully the tragic moral of the story, it was, also, the day of his death.

She banged her hair in the latest style,
And wore a dress of black,
And a pair of light ten-buttoned kids,
And a long brown seal skin sacque;
But spite of all her blood wasn't pure,
She ought to try the Spring Blossom Cure.

OLE BULL'S FUNERAL.

The Last Honors Paid to His Memory at Bergen, Norway.

The following is an extract from a letter recently received from Bergen, Norway, in regard to the funeral of Ole Bull:

"The last sad rites are over for the great man now gone from us. It is impossible in the short space of a letter to give any idea of the honors which have been lavished upon him. King and peasant, all classes have united in one universal testimony that 'Ole Bull was Norway's greatest man and most beloved son.' The first intelligence of his death was conveyed by the steamer Bjorne, which went into Bergen with its flag at half mast. In an instant, as soon as it could be done, every flag in the harbor went down, and as the message spread, hundreds of flags all over Bergen, with the four on the common which are never used save for royalty, were displayed at half mast. The common council met at once and passed resolutions desiring that it should be interred in Bergen, and offering to Mrs. Bull the central place in the cemetery, a place which it had been decided should be always reserved for celebrations of the birthdays of distinguished men buried there. It was desired for Christy, Norway's great statesman, whose statue is on the common, but was refused. It was given at once spontaneously and a subscription started for a statue to Mr. Bull. The steamboats offered their services free, and on Friday after his death four hundred people came out to see his remains, leaving as many more which the boat could not carry. Yesterday a large steamer with one hundred and fifty people who were invited, family and intimate friends, came out, and the funeral services were held in the hall where the remains lay in state. On Sunday a steamer came to bring flowers, and his casket was loaded with exquisite floral designs, among which was a beautiful floral violin, crowns, wreaths, etc.

Fifteen large steamers met the one carrying his body before reaching Bergen, and escorted it in with signals fired, church bells ringing, and thousands upon the strand and the streets as far as could be seen were one sea of heads. The quay was decorated and spread with green, as were also the street through which the procession passed. The house where he was born was decorated and the procession halted while words were sung composed for the occasion. The body was borne from the steamer by peasants in uniform and placed upon a catafalque drawn by four black horses. The casket was so high that it could be seen above the multitude which filled the streets. His own American flag preceded him, and many more of beautiful designs. Twelve young ladies with crape badges bore his trophies, and all the city authorities were in the procession. Much, much more than I can describe, all that human hands and human hearts inspired by the tenderest love could devise.

The best of all, that which touched and thrilled every heart, was after the bishop at the grave had said all. The grave, with the sides lined with flowers and the bottom covered in the most beautiful spot ever seen anywhere. Bjornson himself a king, who came from Christiana to attend the funeral ceremonies, and looked upon the casket below, covered and surrounded with flowers, he, pale and full of emotion said: "He was beloved Ole Bull."

Bjornson talked for nearly an hour and every word was a jewel. He thanked Mrs. Bull, for all present that she had made his last days so happy, and said to all that Ole Bull's last request that Norway should love and cherish his wife who had loved him and smoothed his pathway, etc. The half cannot be told, it must be witnessed to be understood. The newspapers are doing what is only for royalty, devoting one side for a week to notices, poems, and sketches of his life with mourning decorations. The King telegraphed his condolence. Messrs. Bjornson and Lund returned with the family to Dyseen, and as they left signals were fired."

Mrs. Ball and friends are now on their return to America, expecting to leave Liverpool in the Baltic on the 21 inst.

Jabesh Snow, Gunning Cove, N. S., writes: "I was completely prostrated with the Asthma, but hearing of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, I procured a bottle, and it did me so much good, that I got another, and before it was used I was well. My son was cured of a bad cold by the use of half a bottle. It goes like wildfire, and makes cures wherever it is used."

ROYAL FROLICS.

The Joke the Duke of Hamilton Played on an Oxford Shopkeeper.

Speaking of the Duke of Hamilton, no man, for years past, has left a reputation for greater eccentricity at Oxford than his Grace. The following anecdote, however, will prove that the frolics were none of them malicious, but merely the results of the hot blood of youth:

One evening the Duke went to Standen's and bought the best hat he could find. Ornamented with this brand new head covering he lounged into a grocer's shop at St. Aldate's and quietly remarked to the astonished assistant:

"I want some treacle--about a big jug full, and I will take it with me."

The man, recognizing his customer and remembering the well-known eccentricity of the Duke, contented himself with asking, "Does your Grace want it in a pitcher?"

"No," replied the Duke, carelessly, "I don't care to be seen walking about with a pitcher; put it in my hat!"

And with this he laid his new purchase on the counter.

The man gravely filled the Lincoln & Bennett with treacle, and when it was nearly brim full, the Duke told him to stop. "How much do I owe you?" inquired the Premier Duke of Scotland. The man mentioned the price; the Duke threw a £5 note on the table, and as the shopman was stooping over his drawer, looking for change, he clapped the hat, treacle and all, on the man's head, and left the shop with his boon companions, who all heartily enjoyed the joke, and thought the man well paid for his discomfiture and temporary annoyance by the present of a new hat, only partially damaged, and a fiver. If the shopkeepers of Oxford are to-day as they were then, I think many would undergo a similar ordeal for the sake of a like reward.—Whitehall Review.

ADVANTAGEOUS as it would be for the South to diversify its agriculture by making grain, grass and roots important accessories to their leading staple, it must be difficult to impress the importance of the fact upon planters as long as the immediate profits of cotton-growing continue to be what they are claimed to be. A South Carolina planter states that the whole cost of planting and cultivating an acre of cotton and ginning the product and delivering it on a railroad is about $11. The average yield per acre in the South is 191 pounds, so that the cost of raising it is about 5 3-4 cents. Last season the planters in that State sold their crops at an average of 11 1-4 cents, making a profit of 5 1-2 cents a pound, which, computed on an estimated crop of 5,000,000 bales, of 450 pounds each, gives an aggregate profit of $124,000,000. It is hard to persuade Southern farmers to reduce their plantings of a staple that yields such large profits as this, and always sells for cash, and turn a share of their attention to crops whose profits are smaller; and it is not surprising, therefore, to learn that planters, encouraged by the good prices of the last season, are preparing to raise a larger crop than ever before. In South Carolina they are making arrangements to plant half as much more ground than they did last year, and the same may be said of the rich Lower Mississippi cotton region, where the yield per acre is double that of South Carolina.—St. Louis Republican.

A FEW days ago George Bidwell killed a bear in what is called the notch in Deep Hollow in Shandaken, Ulster County N. Y., and did it in a very unromantic way. He was cutting logs against the mountain with another man, and had a dog with him that was half coach and half shepherd, and this dog smelled out a bear, and made such a tremendous fuss that the men thought that they had better go and see what was the matter. They thought that he had attacked a hedgehog, and as they didn't want him injured by being struck with quills (a dog might as well try to swallow a lot of darning needles as to bite a hedgehog) they hurried up to the scene. They reached the dog, who was found below a shelving rocky ledge, under which there was an opening, and upon crawling up and looking into the hole it proved to be an improvised bear's den. The bear having become thoroughly awakened by the noise, was prancing around quite lively. One of the men had his ax with him, and as he came to the spot and encouraged the dog to "seek him, Jack! give it to him," the bear thought it was about time to come out, and as he made a rush to get out of the hole the man struck at him with the back of the ax, and the blow being well directed it killed bruin at the first clip. Bruin turned out to be quite a valuable take, as he weighed 200 pounds and the meat sold for 15 cents a pound, while the skin brought $10.

THE LEAD PENCIL.

One of the Oddities in the Use of a Lead Pencil

The act of putting a lead pencil to the tongue, to wet it, just before writing, which we notice in so many people, is one of the oddities of habit for which it is hard to give any reason—unless it began in the days when lead pencils were poorer than now, and was continued by example into the next generation.

A lead pencil should never be wet. It hardens the lead and ruins the pencil. This fact is known to newspaper men and stenographers. But nearly every one else does wet a pencil before using it. This fact was definitely settled by a newspaper clerk away down East. Being of a mathematical turn of mind, he ascertained by actual count, that of fifty persons who came into the office to write an advertisement or church notice, forty-nine wet a pencil in their mouths before using it. Now this clerk always uses the best pencils that can be procured—in fact is a connoisseur in lead pencils, cherishing a good one with something of the pride a soldier feels in his gun or sword; and it hurts his feelings to have his pencil spoiled. But politeness and business considerations require him to lend his pencil scores of times every day. And often after it has been wet till it was hard and brittle and refused to mark, his feelings would overpower him. Finally he got some cheap pencils and sharpened them, and kept them to lend. The first person who took up the stock pencil was a drayman whose breath smelt of onions and whisky. He held the point in his mouth and soaked it for several minutes, while he was torturing himself in the effort to write an advertisement for a missing bull-dog. Then a sweet-looking young lady came into the office, with kid gloves that buttoned half the length of her arm. She picked up the same old pencil and pressed it to her dainty lips preparatory to writing an advertisement for a lost bracelet. The clerk would have stayed her hand, even at the risk of a box of the best pencils ever Faber created, but he was too late. And thus the pencil passed from mouth to mouth for a week. It was sucked by people of all ranks and stations, and all degrees of cleanliness and uncleanliness. But we forbear. Surely no one that reads this will ever again wet a lead pencil.—Youth's Companion.

Many people have the idea that a finely-flavored dish must cost a great deal; this is a mistake: if you have untainted meat, or sound vegetables, or even Indian meal, to begin with, you can make it delicious with proper seasoning. One reason why French cooking is much nicer than any other is that it is seasoned with so great a variety of herbs and spices; these cost very little; if you would buy a few cents' worth at a time you would soon have a good assortment. The best kinds are sage, thyme, sweet marjoram, tarragon, mint, sweet basil, parsley, bay-leaves, cloves, mace, celery-seed and onions. If you will plant the seed of any of these seven first mentioned in little boxes on your window-sill, or in a sunny spot in the yard, you can generally raise all you need. Gather and dry them as follows: Parsley and tarragon should be dried in June and July, just before flowering; mint in June and July; thyme, marjoram and savory in July and August; basil and sage in August and September; all herbs should be gathered in the sunshine and dried by artificial heat; their flavor is best preserved by keeping them in air-tight tin cans or in tightly-corked glass bottles.—Floral Cabinet.

THE removal of the animals from the Zoological Gardens at Castle Shannon, Pa., was a rather exciting affair. The collection embraced bears, buffalo, deer, wolves, foxes, wildcats, bloodhounds, spitz dogs, opossums, raccoons, cockatoos, parrots, paroquets, monkeys, chickens and other beasts and birds too numerous to mention. A fearful fight occurred between a monkey named Greeley, three feet tall, and Mr. Frizzle, his keeper, which, after lasting nearly a quarter of an hour, was closed by an attendant killing the animal to save Mr. Frizzle's life. As it is, he is dangerously wounded, the tendons of one wrist being severed, besides many other wounds inflicted. The animals had grown to like the locality, and objected one and all to being transferred to cages.

AN accident occurred on the Columbia River, Oregon, a few days ago, which strikingly illustrates the human instinct and sympathy that exist in animals. A number of horses were being conveyed on the boat, when, during a commotion among them, one was kicked and had its leg broken. It was decided to kill the poor brute and put it out of misery. He was dispatched by an ax in the hands of one of the employees of the boat. The celebrated old thoroughbred running stallion, Delaware, was quietly watching the movement, and just as the blow was struck he gave a loud scream and fell backward with a shower of blood streaming from his nostrils. For upward of three hours his agonies were fearful, and it was thought he would die, but he finally rallied and may recover. Delaware is eighteen years old and has a national reputation, having beaten Ansel and other celebrated champions of the turf. He is owned by Hon. J. W. Nesmith, late Senator from Oregon.

THE Suez Canal, connecting the Mediterranean with the Red Sea, was opened for navigation November 17, 1869; it is ninety-two miles long, and of varying width, the narrow portions, which comprise the greater portion of its length, not permitting two vessels to pass each other. There are numerous sidings, however, which afford room for the vessels to pass or cross each other. Vessels measuring four hundred and thirty feet in length and drawing twenty-five feet nine inches of water have safely passed through the canal. The actual cost of the canal was £17,518,729, exclusive of £1,360,000 bonds issued to pay coupons on shares in arrear during part of the period of construction, or in United States currency, about $94,000,000.

DR. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES wrote the other day to the Superintendent of the Cincinnati schools: "I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Longfellow a few evenings since, and took the opportunity of telling him that my rhyming machinery was out of gear or I would have sent some lines for the Cincinnati school celebration of his birthday. The truth is, I am busy with another kind of work, and it will never do to shift a barrel-organ from one tune to another while it is playing. It must get through 'Old Hundred' before it strikes up 'Hail to the Chief.' I do not mean that I am writing an epic, or a tragedy, or an ode, but that my stated duties and the burdens of an almost unmanageable correspondence are about as much as I am equal to."

Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver.
Head, nerves, kidneys, bladder, womb, and blood affections of the urinary organs, gravel, scrofula, rheumatism, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, &c.
DR. PRICE'S REPUTATION!
Has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.
My practice, not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.
Dr. V. Clarence Price

☞ KIDNEGEN is highly recommended and unsurpassed for WEAK or FOUL KIDNEYS, DROPSY, BRIGHT'S DISEASE LOSS of ENERGY, NERVOUS DEBILITY, or any OBSTRUCTIONS arising from KIDNEY or BLADDER DISEASES. Also for Yellow Fever, Blood and Kidney Poisoning, in infected malarial sections.
☞ By the distillation of a FOREST LEAF with JUNIPER BERRIES and BARLEY MALT we have discovered KIDNEGEN, which acts specifically on the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, removing injurious deposits formed in the bladder and preventing any straining, smarting sensation, heat or irritation of the membraneous lining of the ducts or water passages. It excites a healthy action in the Kidneys giving them strength, vigor, and restoring these organs to a healthy condition, showing the effects on both the color and easy flow of urine. It can be taken at all times, in all climates and under all circumstances without injury to the system. Unlike any other preparation for Kidney difficulties it has a very pleasant and agreeable taste and flavor. It has been difficult to make a preparation containing positive diuretics properties which will not nauseate, but be acceptable to the stomach. Before taking any Liver medicine try a bottle of KIDNEGEN to CLEANSE THE KIDNEYS from foul matter. Try it and you will always use it as a family medicine. Ladies especially will like it, and Gentlemen will find KIDNEGEN the best Kidney Tonic ever used.
NOTICE.—Each bottle bears the signature of LAWRENCE & MARTIN, also a Proprietary Stamp, which permits KIDNEGEN to be sold (without license) by druggists, grocers and other persons everywhere.
Put Up in Quart Size Bottles for General and Family Use.
If not found at your druggists or grocers, we will send a bottle prepaid to the nearest express office to you.

DAY'S Kidney PAD

IS STRONGLY ENDORSED.

Rev. E. F. L. GAUSS, Galena, Ills., writes—"For over ten years I had been a great sufferer from pains in the small of the back and region of the Kidneys, which was most excruciating and at times almost insufferable. Doctoring brought no relief, and I was finally advised to go abroad and seek the climate of my youth. In Germany and Switzerland, eminent physicians, after close examinations, declared my sufferings to arise from disease of the Kidneys, of long standing, and could do me no good. I was, however, benefited by the climate and consequently returned. No sooner had I been back and resumed my pastoral work, when the old trouble grew again so intense as to make life a burden. A few months ago I came in possession of one of Day's Kidney Pads, put it on, and the effects were truly wonderful. The pains at once grew less and are now, after wearing the second Pad, entirely gone, and there can be no doubt that I am entirely cured, as I write this some weeks after its use, and am strong and look again the very picture of health. I write this perfectly voluntarily, and it is dictated only by truth and gratitude. Indeed, I consider the Day Kidney Pad Co. God's agents and great benefactors of mankind. May all the suffering be helped as I have been is my earnest wish."

LARIMORE & DEAN, Druggists, Niles, Mich.—"30 years in business—"DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is having a large sale and gives better general satisfaction than any remedy we ever sold."

CASPER WEITZEL, Policeman, Lancaster, Pa.—"I have been a great sufferer from Kidney complaint, and after wearing your Pad 25 days I feel better than I have in 15 years."

Dr. A. J. STONER, Decatur, Ills.—"Your Pad is doing great good here. It sells every day and gives universal satisfaction."

For sale by druggists, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price—Regular Pad $2.00; Special Pad (extra size), $3.00; Children's, $1.50. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving the history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures sent free. Write for it. Address, DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

THE FASHIONS.

Some Stylish and Fashionable Hints for the Dinner Table

NOW, IT is very important that people should know just how to comport themselves at table. Of course fashion changes as much in table etiquette as in anything else, and it would be very humiliating for a person to find that he or she was eating dinner in last year's style; and in order that this may be avoided, Harper's Bazar has kindly given a code that will enable even the most ignorant to eat according to the very latest fashion. Of course the old idea that people go to the table to satisfy their hunger, has long since been exploded. "When liqueurs are handed with the ices," says the Bazar, "young ladies are not expected to take them." Young ladies are at a manifest disadvantage as far as wines are concerned. "A young lady," continues the busy B, "should not drink more than half a glass of sherry with soup or fish, one glass of champagne during dinner, and half a glass of sherry at dessert." If a young lady desires to indulge more freely in wine she must get married. "A married lady may drink a glass and a half of champagne during dinner, a glass of sherry at soup and half a glass of sherry at dessert." She ought to say, "Only half a glass, please," when the wine is offered to her. The Bazar neglects to state a fact well known in higher circles, that if the person really wants more than half a glass a wink must be tipped to the waiter at the moment the glass is asked for. It is to be hoped that persons outside the pale of fashionable society will not imagine that knives and forks and fingers are to be used indiscriminately. Far otherwise. "Use a gold ice spoon with ices, a knife and fork with pears and apples; a spoon with a melon; strawberries and cream with spoon and fork; strawberries alone are taken by the stem and dipped in powdered sugar; served with cream they are eaten with a spoon; dessert cake is broken by the hands and eaten piecemeal, and grapes, gooseberries, etc., are taken in the fingers." At free-lunch stands or penny restaurants these rules may be ignored.—Detroit Free Press.

—Polished brass ornaments may be kept bright by coating them with a thin solution of bleached shellac in alcohol.

A WOMAN'S EMIGRATION SOCIETY has been started in England to promote the emigration of the "superfluous women" to the colonies.

AN English newspaper has an advertisement calling for "an organist who can also take the village blacksmith business."

LADIES who wear sealskin sacques are very liable not to wear them, for in Belgium rabbit skins are successfully prepared to resemble sealskin, and thousands of rabbits are annually killed in England whose pelts go to Belgium, and leave that country as genuine sealskins.

A MINER of Winnemucca, Nev., was seized the other day with lockjaw. Greatly alarmed, he ran to a drug-store, and was so precipitate in his entrance that the druggist mistaking him for a tramp, knocked him down. Strange to say, the lockjaw was cured instantly.

THE bronze god Daibootz, the great Buddhist divinity of Japan is over six hundred years old. It rises, a majestic image, sixty-five feet high. There is a tradition that this great figure was cast from copper and bronze coins thrown into the temple by poor pilgrims as votive offerings to the god.

The Fire on the Hearth.

A SON of a well-to-do farmer, who formerly resided in one of the western towns of Otsego County, N. Y., tells the following rather good story of the fire that has burned continuously for forty-seven years upon his hearthstone: In the month of January, 1831, on a cold winter's night, he was sitting by a bright, warm fire which was burning in the old-fashioned fireplace. The hired girl was watching the cheery blaze with him, and during their conversation she spoke of the cold night and how pleasant it was to have a good fire to sit by, and remarked that she hoped she should always have one to enjoy. The farmer's son said to her: "That light will always shine, and will grow brighter every day." Time passed smoothly with him and the hired girl until the winter of 1833, when they were married. Upon conducting his bride to her new home for the first time, he kindled a fire on the hearthstone, and throughout all these forty-seven years of their married life he has never allowed it to go out. Naturally he has formed a strong attachment for this fire. It is, he says a constant reminder to him of the day when he first brought his bride to her new home. Around it his children have grown up to manhood and womanhood, and his grandchildren have gazed into its light, as has also one great-grandchild. It was the last light that fell upon the eyes of two of his children who have crossed the river to that bourne whence no traveler returns, and he hopes that it will be the last light that will fall upon the eyes of himself and his companion when they shall be called to the land of eternal light.—Indianapolis Journal.

"WHENEVER Caravansary Week comes round," remarked Mrs. Goodington, looking over the specs that had become opaque from the tears that filled her eyes, "when Caravansary Week comes round, I can't keep my mind off of poor Daniel. How the dear man used to enjoy it! He was a Utilitarian, you know; but he used to say that every sex had something admirable about it; something that was worth irritating by the others. So he used to go everywhere, listening to one predomination in the forenoon and a third in the evening. And how the good man would talk of degeneration by faith, the vicar's condonement, and all those doctors' things! There's few men like Daniel!" In her abstraction the dear old soul looked hopefully on Tommy, thinking that perhaps he might "peramulate his father," as she expressed it, without noticing that he was cutting out some of the most intricate figures in her school-days' sampler.—Boston Transcript

PUBLIC PRINTING.

STATE OF WISCONSIN, } ss.
DEPARTMENT OF STATE. }

WHEREAS, THE UNDERSIGNED COMmissioners of the Public Printing did, on the first day of June, 1880, advertise, pursuant to law, for sealed proposals to do the public printing for the term of two years from the first day of January, 1881, and did on the fourteenth day of July, 1880, publicly open and read the several bids received, in accordance with said advertisement, and forthwith let the contract for said public printing to the person who had made the lowest and best of said bids; and

WHEREAS, Since the letting of said contract to said lowest bidder, said lowest bidder has refused to accept of said contract for the reason that, under the provisions of section 25, article IV, of the constitution of the state, he is incapable of legally contracting to do said printing, and that said contract is void; and,

WHEREAS, In the opinion of the undersigned Commissioners of the Public Printing, the interests of the state require that new proposals shall be received;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that SEALED PROPOSALS, in writing, indorsed "Proposals for the State Printing," will be received by the undersigned, at the office of the Secretary of State, in the Capitol, at Madison, up to 12 o'clock, noon, of Friday, the 1st day of October, 1880 (and at that time will be publicly opened and read), for doing at the seat of government, all letter-press printing, binding, ruling, blank-books (including stock for binding) authorized or required by the Legislature for its use or the use of the State in all its several departments, for the term of two years from the first day of January, 1881, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 20 of the Revised Statutes, and of all other existing statutes of the State, relating to public printing.

In case any work is done or any materials are furnished under provisions of said chapter 20 of the Revised Statutes, or of other existing statutes of the State, the price of which is not fixed by law, the regular "trade prices" for such labor or materials will be paid.

The contract for said State printing will be let to the person who shall bid to execute the same at the greatest per centum of discount from the foregoing established maximum prices, such per centum of discount to be uniform on every item of work or material, and will be subject to the provisions of law. There will be expressly reserved in the contract the right of the Legislature to alter repeal or amend any law now in force, or which may hereafter be enacted, directing any particular kind or quantity of printing, and the contract will distinctly set forth that it does not give to the contractor any interest in or control over the official publication of the laws, advertisements, proclamations and communications of every nature which may now or hereafter be required by law to be published in a newspaper at the seat of government.

No bid will be considered unless accompanied by all the agreements, guaranties, and certificates prescribed by section 301 of the Revised Statutes. (See forms below.) Blank forms of bids agreements, guaranties and certificates, and all information desired, will be furnished upon application to the Secretary of State.

The right to reject any or all the bids is hereby reserved.

The following are the necessary forms for bids, agreements, guaranties and certificates:

REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Congressman Williams to Address the People of Janesville Next Saturday Evening.

Arrangements have been made for a Republican rally at Lappin's hall, next Saturday evening, at which time and place Hon. Charles G. Williams will address the people on the political issues of the day. Good music will be provided and a good time for all. Every voter should be there to hear a fair honest statement of the record and claims of the Republican party, and the name and fame of the speaker should cause the hall to be packed with eager listeners. Let the rally next Saturday night be an enthusiastic one.

BRIEFLETS.

—Autumn begins.

—September has chills every night.

—Now look out for fires. The stoves are being set up.

—There are burglars hovering around. Look out for bolts and bars.

—There are a good many violations of the ordinance forbidding the throwing of garbage in the streets.

—Thomas Kane, of Plymouth, appeared before Justice Brooks yesterday afternoon and pleaded guilty to a trivial assault upon a boy named Holmes. He paid his fine of $1 and costs, and departed.

—James O'Brien, of Center, who was thrown from his wagon, yesterday afternoon, was quite seriously injured, but no bones are broken, and the injuries seem to be mostly internal, which renders it difficult to determine for several days what the result will be.

—Mrs. Holloway, wife of Leroy T. Holloway, died this afternoon of diptheria. The illness has been but of short duration, and the death comes suddenly, and brings with it a heavy shadow upon the household, which numbers besides the husband, five children.

—The peculiar Peake performers pray the public to be present promptly at 8 p. m., to patronize a pleasing performance prearranged for such people as present themselves prepared to pay the paltry pecuniary penalty of fifteen pennies. Lappin's Music hall to-night.

—There have been several thefts of late at Cutts' boarding house, on the new Beloit road, where many of the railroad laborers take their meals. Last Sunday night one of the men skipped out with a new suit of clothes belonging to a fellow-shoveller, and yesterday another hurried away, taking with him an overcoat belonging to a Dane.

—Last evening there was a large gathering of friends at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Volney Atwood, by invitation of their daughter, Miss Anna Atwood. Refreshments were served in the early part of the evening, and the later hours were given over to dancing and social enjoyment. Three floors were canvased and Anderson's orchestra furnished most excellent music. The occasion was throughout an enjoyable one, and all who participated are loud in their praise of the hospitable manner in which their happiness was furthered.

—The enrolled members of the Garfield and Arthur club, and those desiring to enroll themselves, are requested to meet at the club rooms over the old post-office, at the east end of Milwaukee street bridge, to-morrow night at 8 o'clock, to elect officers and to select uniforms. A rousing, enthusiastic club is to be organized, which every Republican should join. The cost of procuring uniforms will not be over $1.50 each, and the benefit of such an organization needs not to be dwelt upon. Now that the season opens for campaign mass meetings and demonstrations, there should be no delay in the enthusiastic organization of a uniformed company, which will stand in readiness to parade when needed, and to engage heartily in other features of campaign work. Let every true Republican who can possibly be present, answer to his name to-morrow night. There will also be a meeting of the Garfield and Arthur club to-night at their rooms, at which it is especially desired that those having the enrollment lists shall be present.

Best Accommodations for least money, Astor House, New York.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night stood at 60 degrees above; at 1 o'clock A. M. to-day at 44 degrees above; at 7 o'clock A. M. at 47 degrees above and at 1 o'clock P. M. at 64 degrees above.

The indications to-day are for the upper lake region, clear or partly cloudy weather, slight rise in temperature, stationary or slowly falling barometer, winds shifting to easterly and southerly.

The Grand Central Hotel, 667 Broadway, New York City, is the best kept $3.00 a day house in America. Make a note of this, so that when you visit New New York you will know where to stop.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At the last quarterly meeting of Rock county Pomona Grange the following resolution was passed:

Whereas, it again becomes our sad duty to record the death of another and prominent member of this Grange. He is gone, and may the Great Master receive his glorified spirit,

Brother Curtis Parmlee whose death we deplore, was among the first settlers of the town of Center. As a citizen, neighbor, friend, and brother, he was at all times willing to do his part, and bear his proportion of the responsibilities of life. Ever kind, courteous and obliging, therefore

Resolved, That the sympathies and kind regards of this Pomona Grange be extended to the family and relations of our deceased brother.

THE HUMPTY DUMPTY ENTERTAINMENT.

The largest audience that has gathered within the walls of Myers Opera house for several years, was that of last evening to witness the performance of Tony Denier's Tickled, or Humpty Dumpty. The house was packed and scores were compelled to stand. There is a wonderful "drawing" power in Humpty Dumpty, especially when the role of clown is taken by so good and thorough an artist as George H. Adams.

The first act was moderate in its make-up, but there were some good things in it nevertheless, and among them was the comic opera which included the singing by a full chorus "The house that Jack built." One of the highly interesting features of the second act were the musical oddities of Charley Schilling who captured the audience completely. His performance on the "mouth organ," the tenor drum and the base drum at the same time, organizing himself into an entire band, was a display of skill which created loud demonstrations of applause. Professor Fow gave some very fine exhibitions of ventriloquism which were never excelled in the city. Little Todd, the German performer, did some splendid work in balancing and doing other feats on the column of gold. The Sparks Brothers, the well known Irish two, set the house fairly wild with their Celtic specialties. They were exceedingly good and well deserved the applause they won last night. The Spanish Troubadours, composed of Jose Ramirez, the champion mandolinist, Mlle Hortense the guitarist, and Guillermo, the little instrumentalist, gave a fine performance and were very much appreciated.

With the third act began Humpty Dumpty, and fun and frolic were rampant. Adams never appeared to a better advantage. He could scarcely move without throwing the house into a condition of intense delight. Laughter was irresistible. At times it fairly shook the building, and it was never still while he was in sight His acting, facial expressions, and comicalities in general, were remarkable, and it can not be said that he is in anywise inferior to the lamented George L. Fox. The applause which was showered on Adams in his rendering of Humpty Dumpty, was called out by a display of pantomimic ability which is rarely seen in Janesville. His support was good, and altogether, those who attended last night got double the worth of their money in honest and hearty laughter.

A Suggestion to Summer Tourists.

A change of climate is at all times more or less dangerous. There are elements in a new atmosphere which are injurious, especially when the system is exhausted by care and overwork, and which should be guarded against. After careful observation we have come to the conclusion that Warner's Safe Kidney Cure is the best preventative for atmospheric evils and that it will restore health and vigor sooner than any remedy which has been discovered.

LIST OF PATENTS.

The following patents were issued from the United States Patent Office to Wisconsin inventors, for the week ending September 14, 1880. Reported for the Gazette by S. A. Hudson, Solicitor of Patents, Lappin's Block, Janesville, Wisconsin:

Henry Clement, Almonte, writes: "For a long time I was troubled with chronic Rheumatism, at times wholly disabled: I tried anything and everything recommended, but failed to get any benefit until a gentleman who was cured of Rheumatism by Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil told me about it. I began using it both internally and externally, and before two bottles were used I was radically cured. We find it a household medicine, and for Croup, Burns, Cuts, and Bruises, it has no equal."

PERSONAL.

—Congressman Williams returned home last evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. Grant, of Dwight, Ill., are the guests of Mr. George Grant and family.

—James Mills and Frank Pember started this morning for Chicago to attend the Chicago Medical College this winter.

—Hugh Menzie, who has been in Dr. Loomis' office, started to-day for Chicago to continue his studies at the Chicago Medical College.

—William Ross, who was injured by falling from a barn on which he was at work, has so far recovered as to be able to be out, but his daughter, Minnie, is very low indeed with fever.

—D. D. Bennett left the city quite unexpectedly, yesterday, having received a telegram from the officials of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, offering him the position of conductor on the eastern division of the road, provided he could report for duty at once. His hasty exit will prove a disappointment to many, who expected to have him drill the Band here, and who wanted to see more of him before he left. During most of his vacation he has been confined at home by illness, so that his old friends have had little time to greet him, but the sudden call is a flattering offer, and business comes before pleasure.

THE MACK TRIAL.

Dickerson was on the stand in the Mack trial at Jefferson yesterday, and was given a severe cross-examination. Mrs. James Heald was sworn as to a conversation had by her with Mrs. Mack seven years ago, when Mrs. Mack told her that she had married Mack to get a home. Constable Charles Robinson was sworn as to finding the bloody clothes. David Marsh was also sworn as to finding notes from Mrs. Mack in Dickerson's possession while Dickerson was in jail. Frank Dudley was sworn as to his acquaintance with Dickerson. John S. Day was sworn as to papers taken from Mrs. Mack while she was in jail; and to conversations overheard by him as between Mrs. Mack and Dickerson. Out of the proceedings of the day there seems to have been little sensationalism evoked except the following tid-bit which is taken from the Chicago Times:

The defense showed, on Dickerson's cross-examination, that a man named Snell was in his company on the night of the murder, and the defense expects to show that he was an accomplice. Dickerson is the principal witness for the State, and Winans and Fethers are determined to break down his testimony. In the cross-examination of Dickerson, to-day, he admitted that he had perjured himself on three different trials. Winans expects to show, before the trial ends, that Mack was killed for money that he had in his posession, and that Snell was the accomplice of Dickerson.

MILTON.

—J. C. Davidson shipped a car load of live hogs to Milwaukee last Friday.

—Mrs. D. Williams went to Milwaukee Monday to visit Mrs. J. M. Grier.

—A. C. Whitford, who has been looking after his father's farm at Dodge Center, Minn., for several weeks past, is at home again. He reports the wheat crop in that section as averaging only ten bushels per acre.

—The Misses Warren, of Albany, and Miss Ashcraft, of Janesville, were, in town, the guests of Miss Libbie Steer.

—Fred Bentley, of Edgerton, made his Milton friends a call last Monday.

WITH the ADVENT

OF THE

Fall Season Comes

SMITH & BOSTWICK!

With the most Extensive Assortment of Merchandise ever shown to the public of this city.

We have been receiving the past two weeks, and are now receiving, our Fall Stock, which in quantity, quality and style, far exceeds any stock ever before received by us, which is a guarantee that it is far ahead of any stock in the city. In fact we have the only real new stock of goods in this city. We shall have a buyer in New York all the time from now until November 1st. Consequently we shall be receiving all the Novelties of the season every day as they come out.
